DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-16, drawn to a polycarbonate, classified in class 528, subclass 204.
- II. Claimss 17-24 and 31-42, drawn to a photoconductor and apparatus and process cartridge containing the photoconductor, classified in class 40, subclass 56.
- III. Claims 25-30, drawn to a method of imaging, classified in class 430, subclass 125.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions II and I are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the polycarbonates may have up to near totality of units having a charge transporting group (i.e., "k" is nearly 1 in claims 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, 11, 13, 15) or may have only a single or other very small number of repeating units of the formula such that the amount of the structural unit having the charge transporting property is less than 5 weight percent of the polycarbonate (i.e., in claims 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14). The subcombination has separate utility such as a coating for an ink jet printed multicolor picture.

Inventions I and II and Invention III are related as products and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in another and materially different process such as forming an electrostatic latent image on the surface of the photoconductor through the use of an ionographic stylus, developing the image with toner, removing unattached toner particles, and fixing the toner image on the surface of the photoconductor.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Note the following two elections of species.

With respect to claims 1-16, this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: the polycarbonates with 1) specific structural units having charge transporting properties and 2) specific bisphenol ether units having R substituents.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 1 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 1753

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

With respect to the remaining claims in the application, claims 17, 25, 31, and 37 are generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising polycarbonates having structural units with charge transporting properties. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species of structural unit having charge transporting properties, even though this requirement is traversed.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

A telephone call was made to John Pike on 28 February 2002 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made. Counsel confirmed that no preliminary amendment had yet been filed in the application.

Art Unit: 1753

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
